

Who we are

Ferrovial is one of the world's leading developers of transport infrastructure. Ferrovial Airports integrates all airport management activities and is one of the world's leading private airport operators. Part of the aviation industry since 1998, the company provides more than 20 years' experience investing, developing and operating around the world. Ferrovial Airports offers an in depth understanding of the industry and a solid track record building strong relationships with partners and stakeholders.

Ferrovial operates a portfolio of 4 airports in the United Kingdom: 25% stake in Heathrow, Europe's busiest hub, and 50% ownership in Glasgow, Aberdeen and Southampton.

What we do

As long-term investors we are active members of the community and work collaboratively with governments, private businesses and local citizens to achieve their social, economic and environmental objectives.

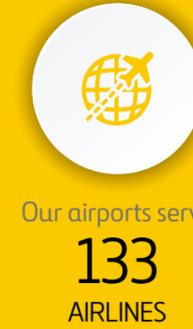

We have a solid track record in airport operation having invested and developed 34 airports and executed 21 transactions since 1998. We offer an in-depth understanding of the industry and solid long-standing relationships with partners and stakeholders.

We provide an integrating approach to projects and operations, managing the full life-cycle of an airport's development. We differentiate ourselves by using the synergies generated between various Ferrovial divisions to help design, build, finance, operate and maintain airports.

Our people is our differentiating factor, the talented mix of local and international professionals combines best-in-class industry knowledge with fresh perspectives to deliver game-changing solutions.

We believe that innovation is vital for world-leading airports. Innovation creates modern, digital, functional, clean, safe and enjoyable infrastructure designed to give passengers and users the best experience.

Ferrovial Airports believes that sustainability is a lever for long-term value creation within asset management. We are committed to developing and leading sustainable growth strategies that have a positive impact on the communities we serve and on their economy.
